WHAT TO DO

You will use your knowledge of adverbs by

JUMP 1 identifying adverbs in a text

JUMP 2 matching adverbs with meaning

JUMP 3 categorize adverb types

JUMP 4 improving sentences using adverbs

JUMP 1

Highlight or underline the adverbs in the text.

Solomon quickly scrambled out of bed and dashed clumsily downstairs. The sound of loud knocking on the door plus the dog barking noisily, as it so often did, had woken him unexpectedly from a deep, sound sleep. Carelessly flinging open the front door, Solomon saw Claire and Harry, impatiently fidgeting on the steps. He had seen them yesterday and they rarely visited at the weekend. Claire smiled deviously; she was always too secretive. 'Let's go, now!' she ordered. 'Hold on,' Solomon moaned in bewilderment. He threw on a jacket and grabbed an umbrella – weather.com predicted that it would rain heavily. Then, off they went, why and where was a mystery to Solomon.

Each sentence contains one or two highlighted adverbs. Match the adverb with a meaning in the table. Write the sentence number and the adverb next to the meaning.

JUMP 3

Adverbs can be classified into one or more of five groups.

ADVERB OF TIME

The adverb tells you when something happens or is done.

Tracey arrived back from Turkey yesterday.

ADVERB OF PLACE

The adverb tells you where something happened or is done.

The forest is over there.

ADVERB OF MANNER

The adverb tells you how something is done or happens. These ly adverbs are probably the ones you are most familiar with.

Aaron hastily packed his school bag.

ADVERB OF DEGREE

The adverb shows you the extent of something.

It was very cold last night.

ADVERB OF FREQUENCY

The adverb tells you how often something is done or happens.

Although Oscar always thinks that he is right, he seldom is.

The table contains fifteen adverbs, three of each type. Decide on the type of adverb and use the key to complete the table. You only need to write a letter.
